Feedback on 'Breaking the Code' by Hugh Whitemore as performed by Streatham Theatre Company, July 2015.

Some of the many positive comments received...

"What a great show"

"Superb performances"

"Excellent work"

"A splendid performance"

"Far better and more enjoyable than the West End production"

"Drama not to be missed"

"Beautifully cast, directed and produced"

"Audience reaction was amazing – everyone loved it, and Louis' (Turing) performance was out of this world"

"Very imaginatively staged and great acting - particularly Turing"

"Truly excellent performances by all concerned, most especially Louis Fox, an immaculate, measured and totally believable Alan Turing"

"Brilliant open-access community theatre company"

"The set changes were clever"